In a summary of all the ACTS of Parliament, you will find by View, what the Offences are in which the Person accused is guilty, which the Offence is considered, the Title in which the Compositions to be made, of the Offender means no Penalty; The Manner of the Conviction upon View, by One or more Witnesses or otherwise, what Penalty is to be inflicted, and by whom, by One or more Justices of Sessions, and all to be the Justices at the Quarter Sessions of the Peace.
The Table refers to the Numbers by which you will find the Statute which you may have recourse to, and the Cases, in which the Case shall be decided, in most Cases you will find it necessary, for it is much

Courteous Reader.

IN this Summary you see, at one View, What the Offence is for which the Person accused is to be punished; The Statute against which the Offence is committed; The Time in which the Conviction is to be made, or the Offender incurs no Penalty; The Manner of the Conviction upon View, by One or more Witnesses, or otherwise; What Penalty is to be inflicted, and by whom, by One, or more Justices out of Sessions, and also by the Justices at the Quarter-Sessions of the Peace.

The Table refers to the Numbers, by which you will find the Statute which you may have Recourse to, and consider at large as the Case shall require. And, indeed, in most Cases you will find it Necessary, for it is much more Safe to proceed by the Statute at large, than by any Summary, Abridgment, or Table, be it never so exact.

And now, Reader, As my Undertaking to compile this Summary was at the Importunity of several Justices of the Peace of the County of Middlesex, when I was in that Commission; so the making it Publick was at the same Importunity, after it had been first perused, and approved by several Justices of Peace of great Experience and sound Judgment, and, at last, by a very eminent Person, since he has been advanced to one of the highest Places in the Kingdom for Administration of Justice. And now it is done, if it proves of publick Service, my Design, in the Publication of it, is fully answer'd.
